

Publication : The Economic Times
Date : Monday, October 22, 2007
Edition : New Delhi
Page : 6 (Emerging Business & IT)

RCOM launches international data roaming to the US

■ MUMBAI: Anil Ambani's Reliance Communications has become the first Indian telecom company to launch international data roaming that would provide internet connectivity to its consumers in their laptops and computers through their mobile phones while travelling in the US. An agreement was signed by Reliance Communications with US telecom major Verizon for this purpose last week, company president SP Shukla told mediapersons.